

KEEPING COMMUNITIES SAFE ONLINE

As schools around the world grapple with the new way of learning we're here to help.

Over the coming weeks and months we are committed to supporting schools and keeping kids safe through equipping young people with the skills they need to manage a new way of learning and extra time online.

COVID-19 RESPONSE

As communities around the globe are dealing with the Coronavirus (COVID-19) crisis, we want to share how we are here to help and will continue to support our school communities over the coming weeks and months.

Now, more than ever before, young people have greater access to technology for learning, connecting and playing. We will continue our commitment to support students, parents and teachers through this period of isolation and home learning. Our mission is to keep Australian kids safe online, so with this in mind, we have developed a range of support options and resources to ensure children and families in your school community are equipped with the skills and knowledge needed to stay safe.
